

A word of introduction

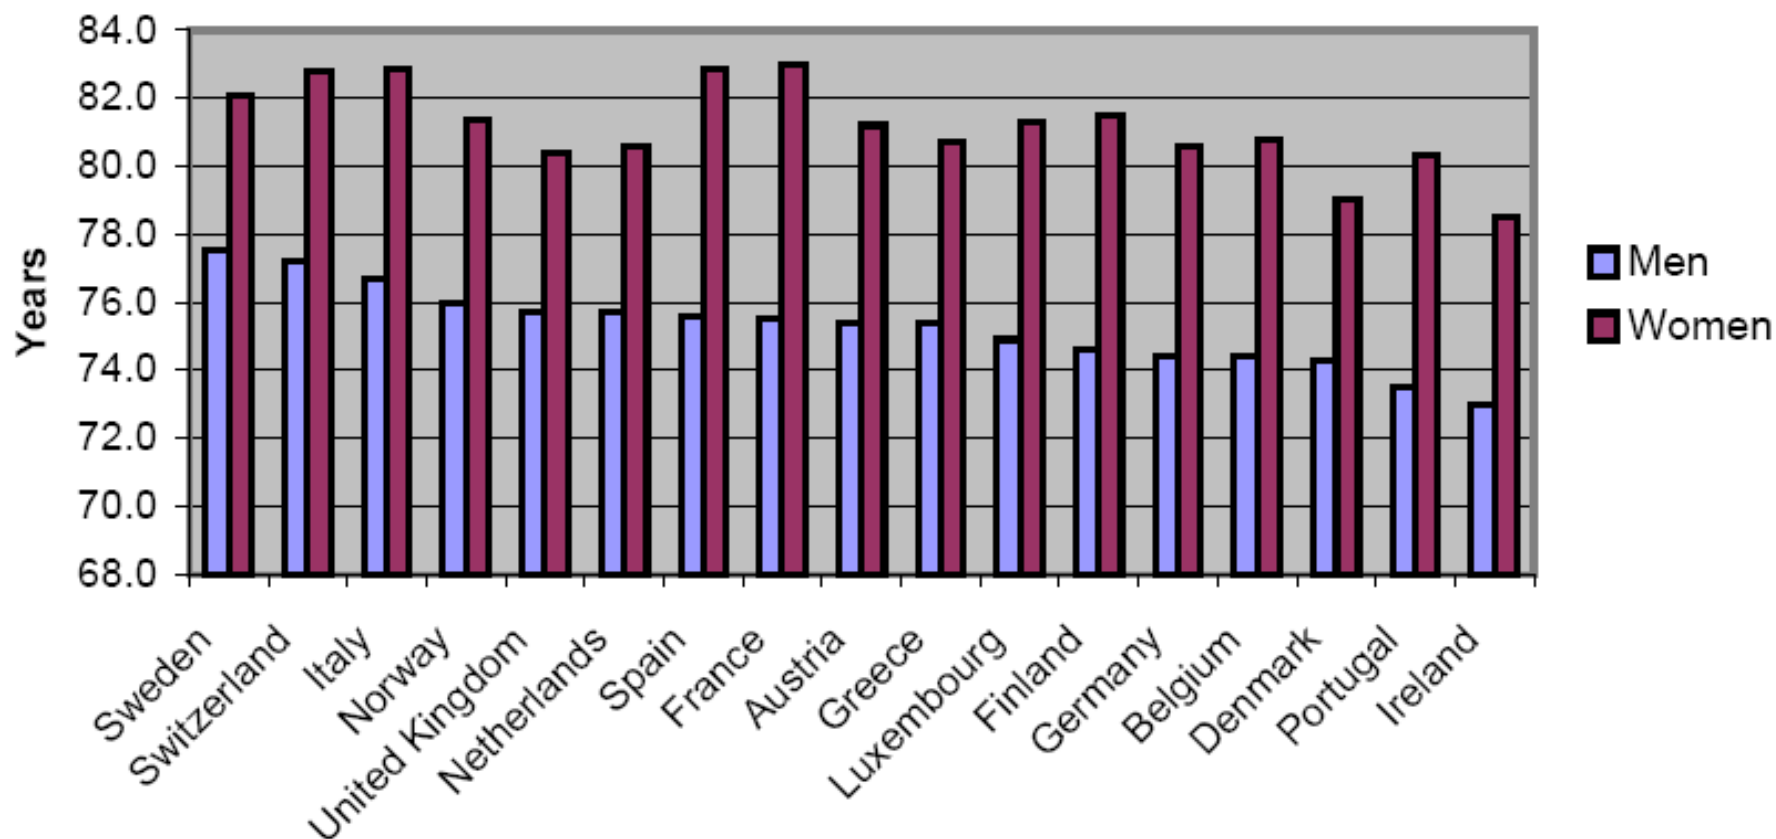

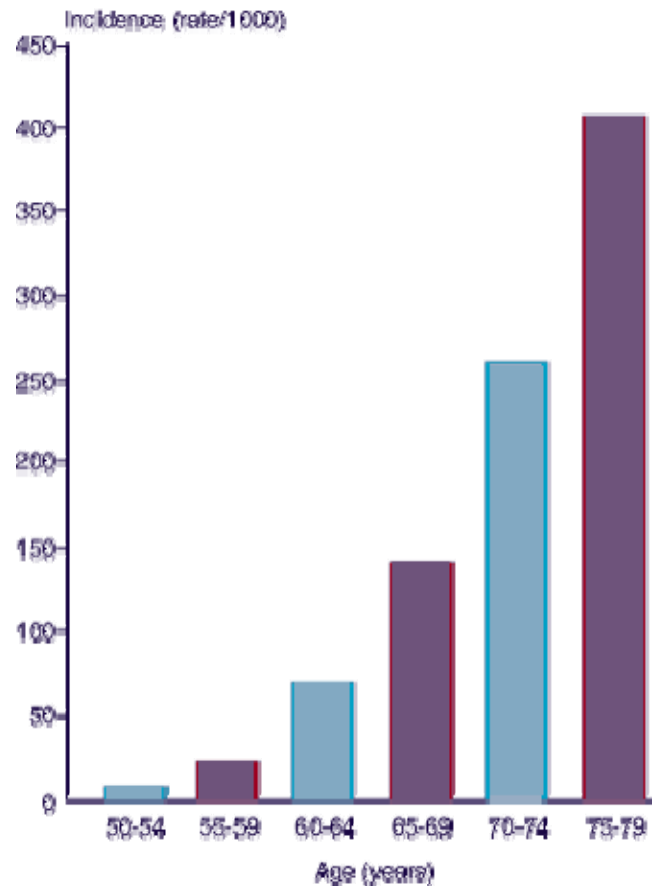

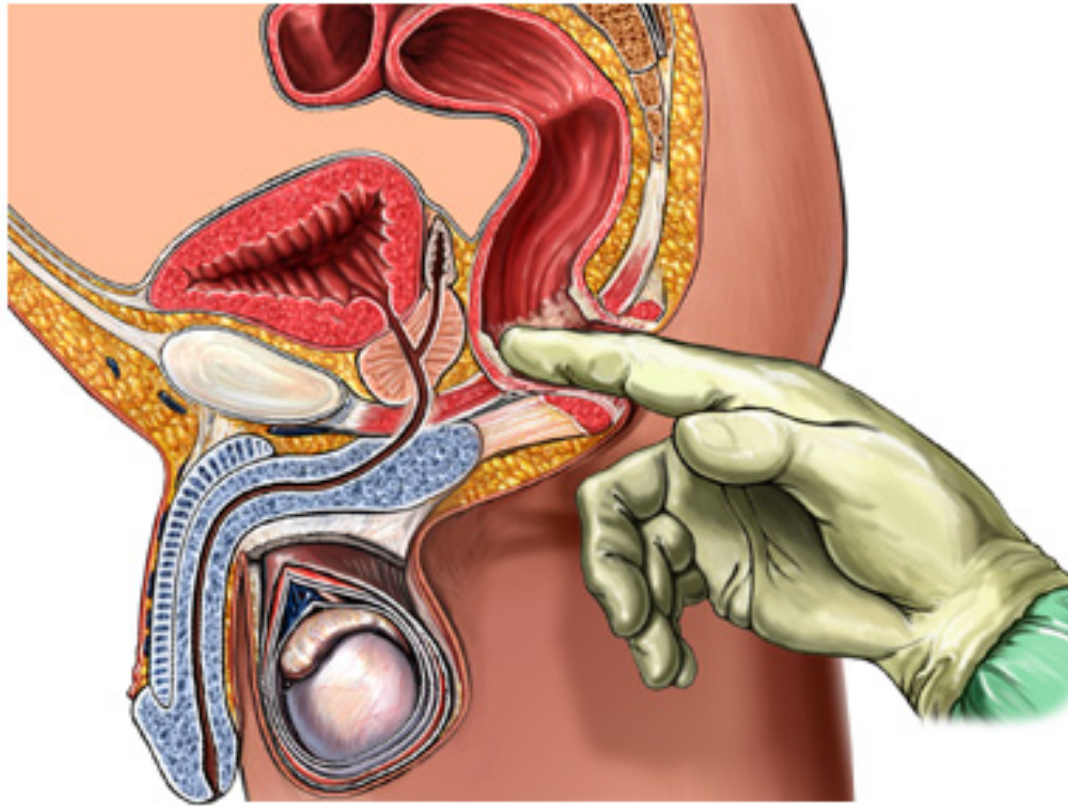

Figure 2 Life expectancy for men and women by country (2001). Source of data [8].

Prostate cancer

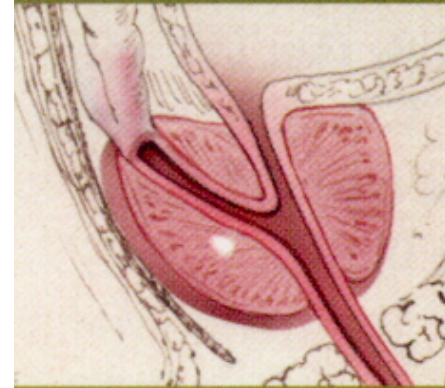

- cause unknown
 - diet
 - familial
- incidence

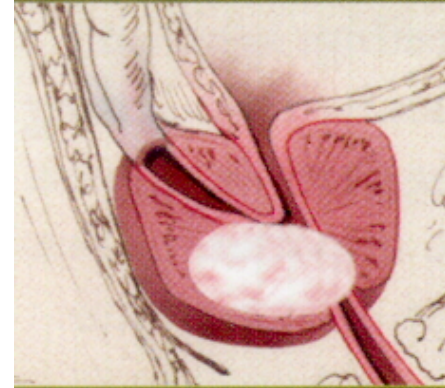

DRE

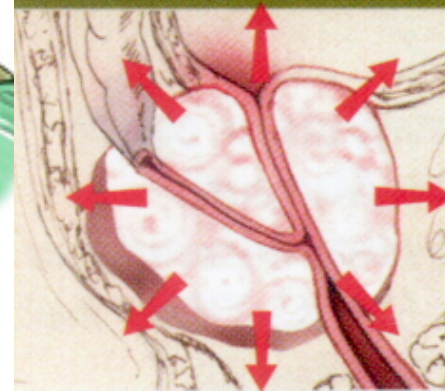

The Stages of Prostate Cancer

Stage T1c
The tumour can't be felt by DRE

Stage T2a
Tumour involves one lobe

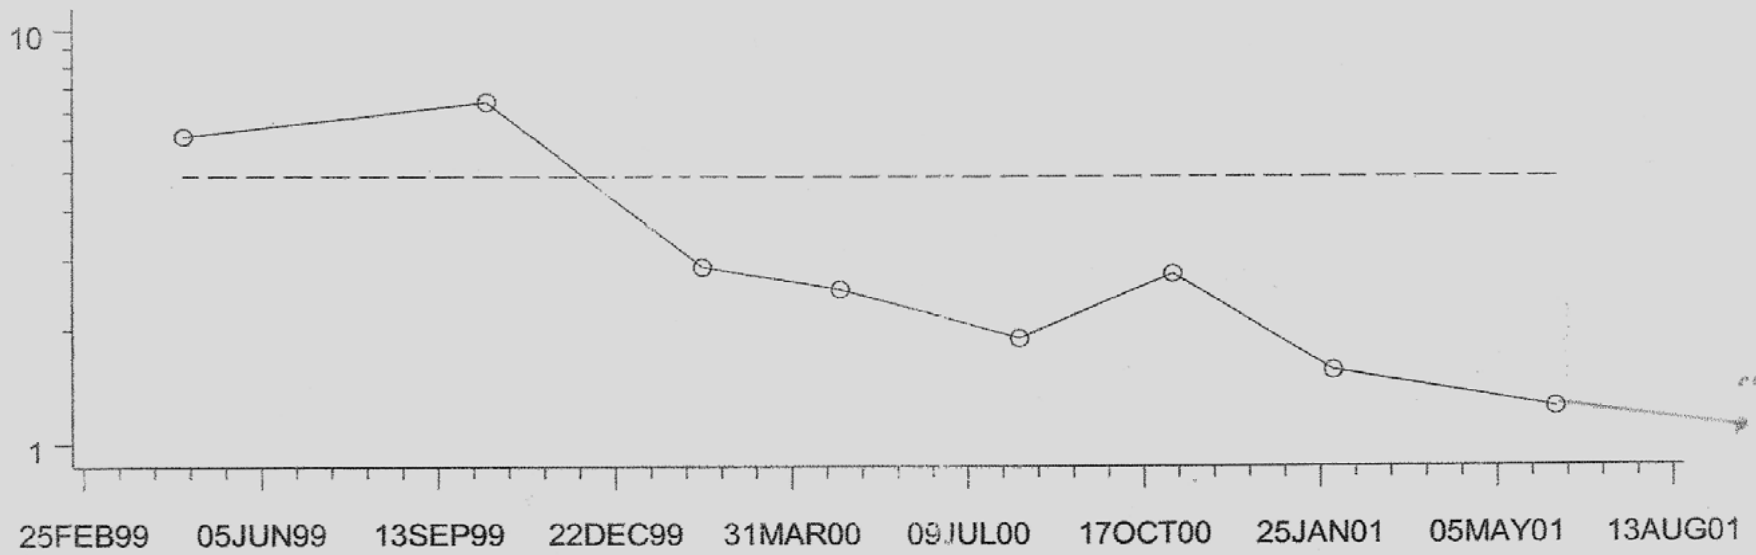

Stage T2b
Tumour involves both lobes

Stage T3-T4
Tumour has spread to surrounding tissue

ug/L
Log. Scale

PSA VS TIME

LEGEND ○-○-○ Test Result - - - Reference Range

99

New 5

TRUS-Bx

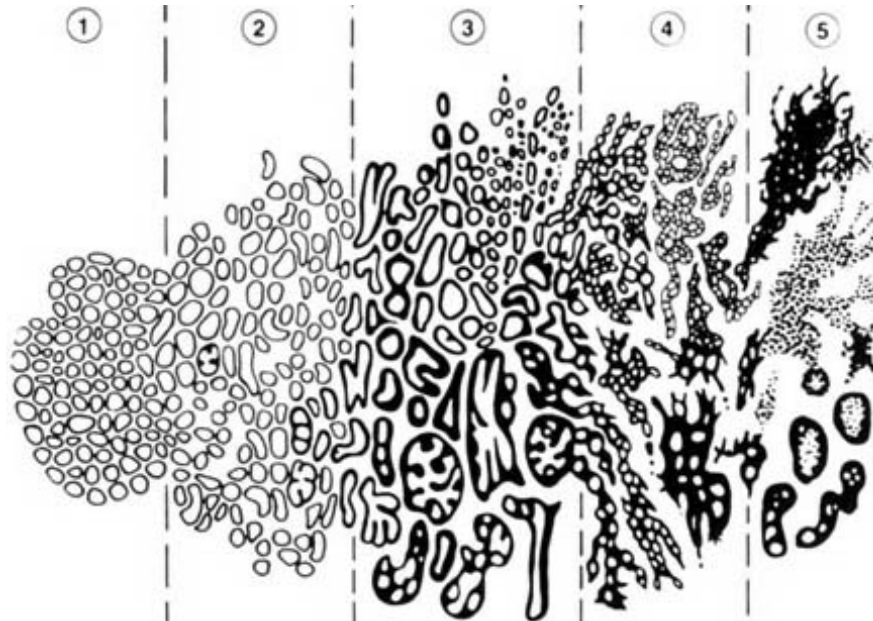

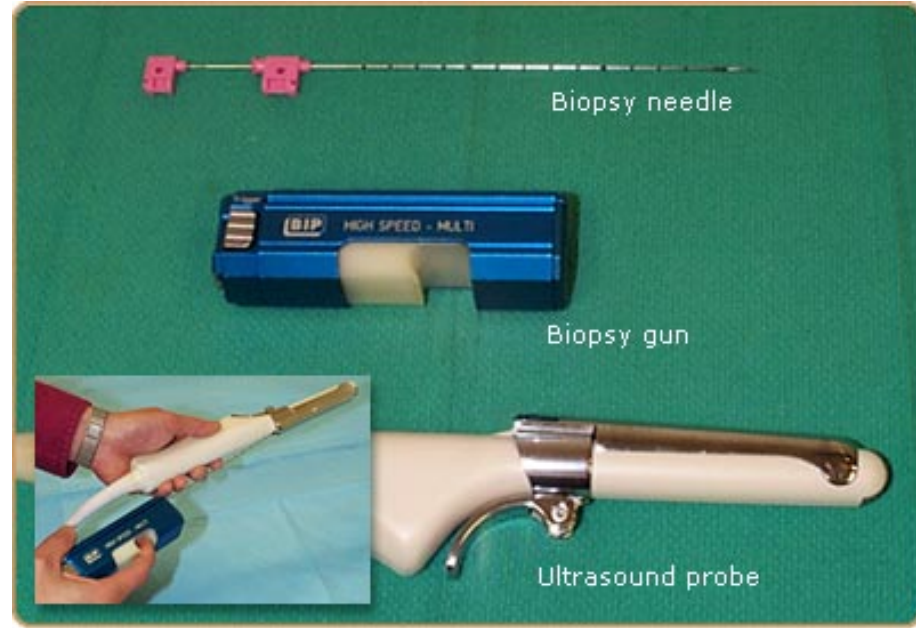

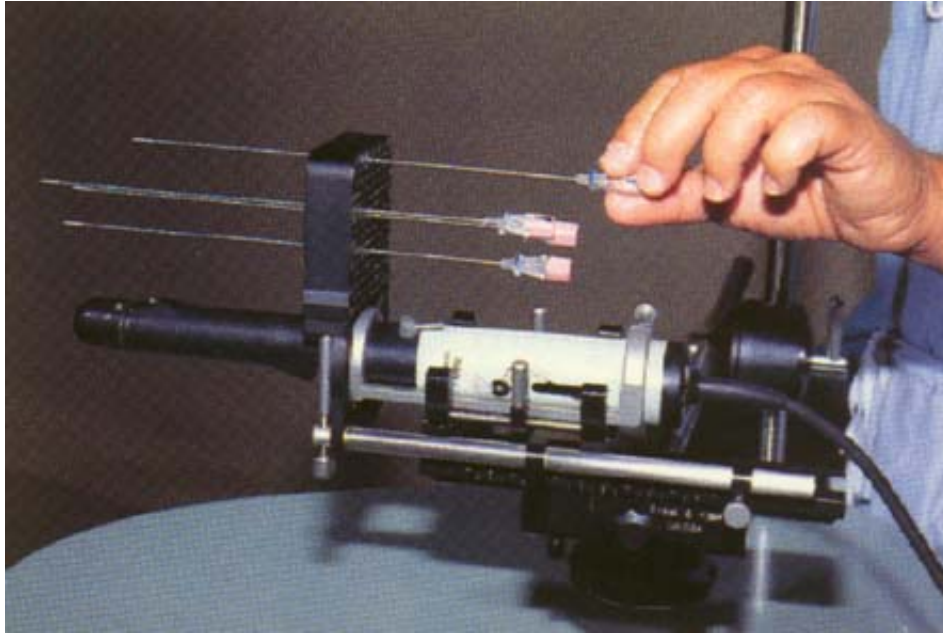

Photo-elicitation

WE USE

Kodak

IMAGE
CHECK

Photos

DATE: 2001 SUBJECT: "Living with my PROSTATE CANCER"

You have a bloody great rod jammed up your anus . . . the insertion was bad enough but the worst part is that you could feel it flicking around deep inside you . . . probing.

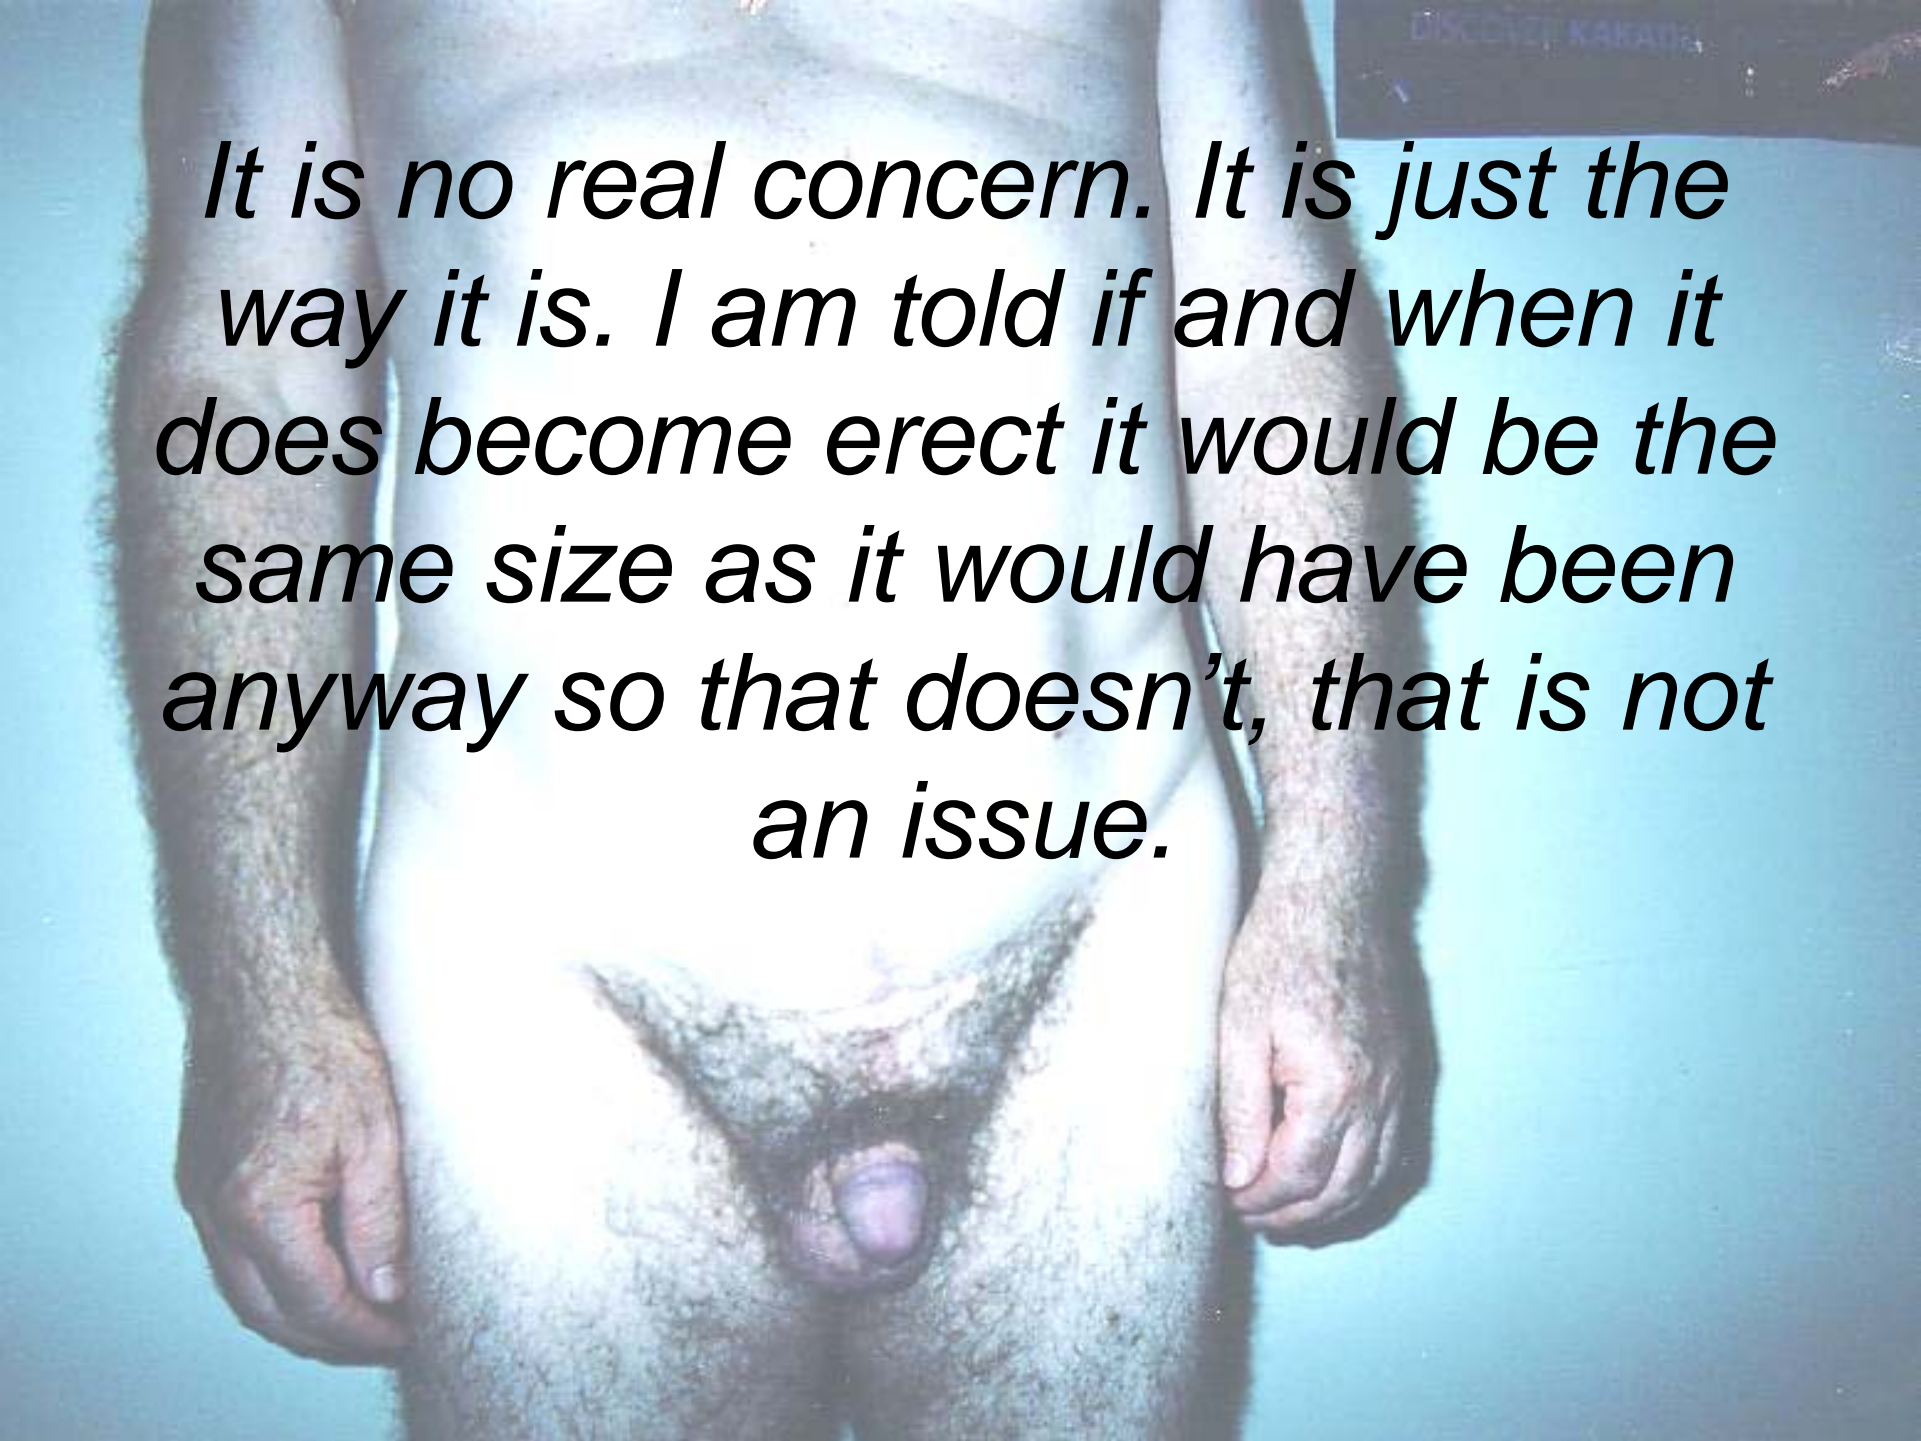

Treatment [s]

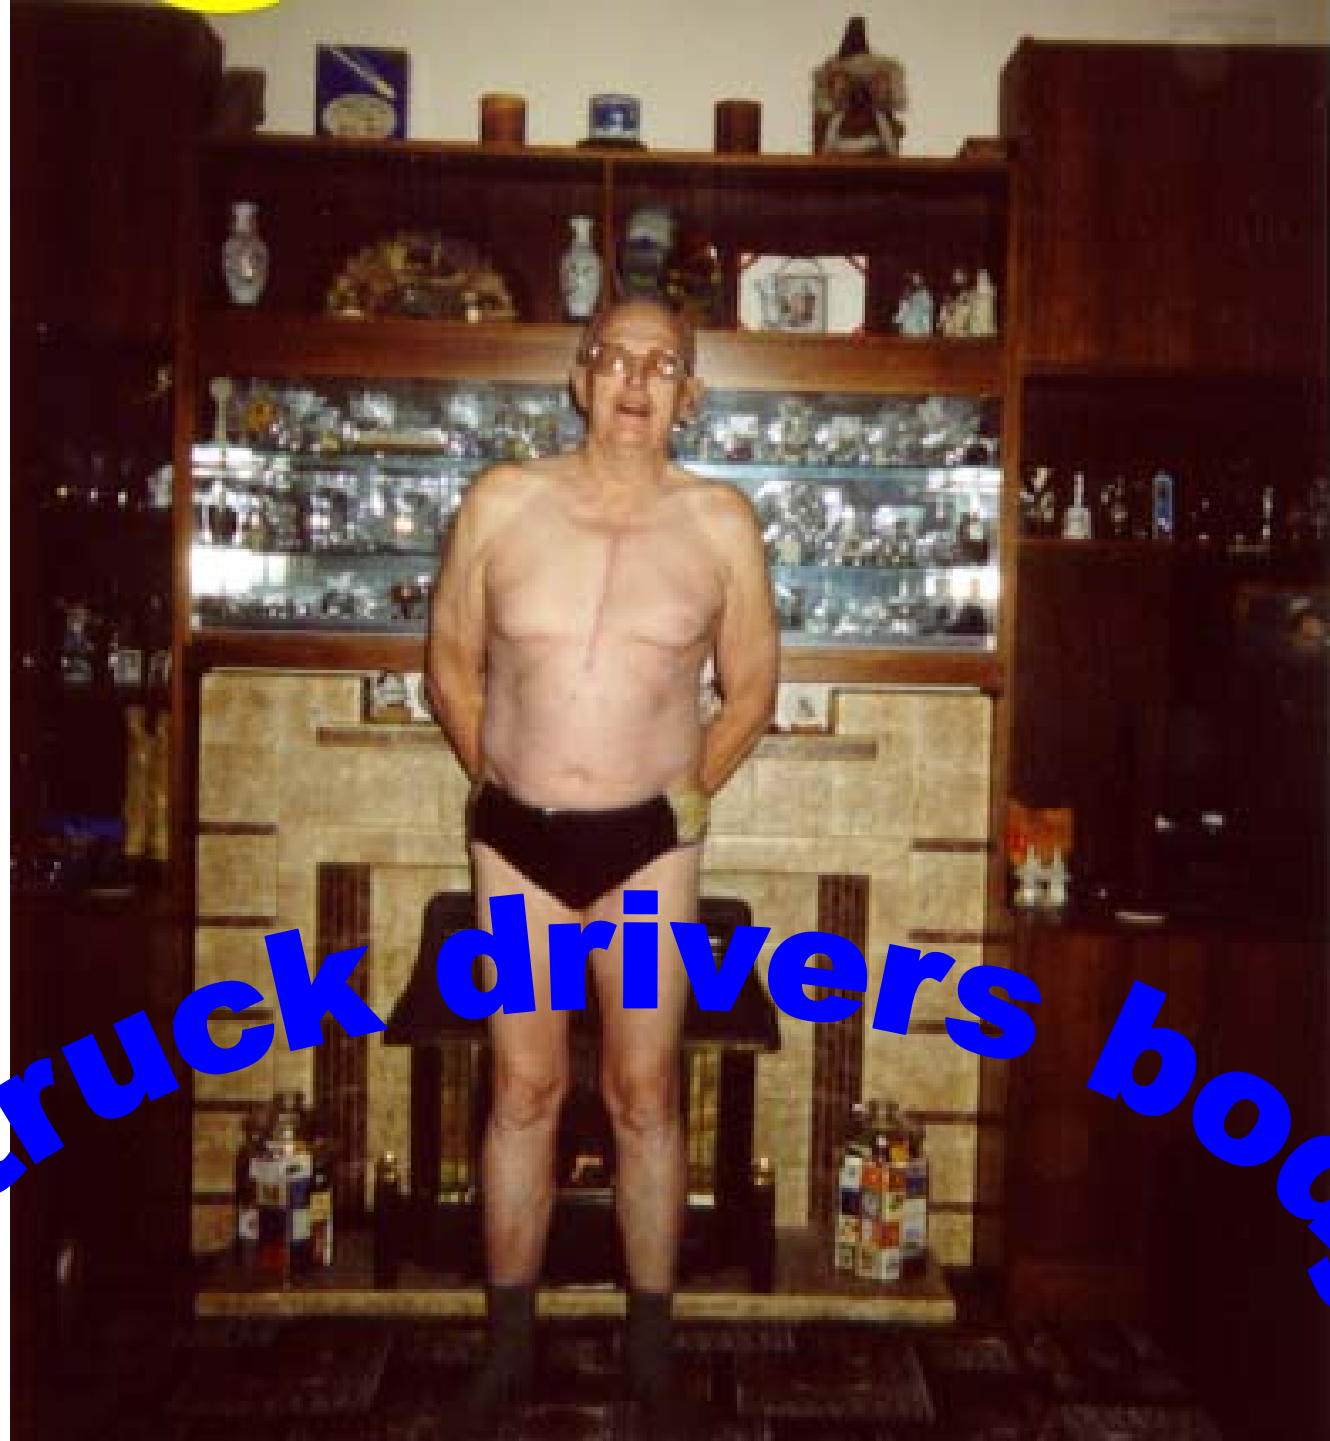

Like policemen in plain clothes stand out . . . it's like here's a brown paper bag 'you can't get it up' that's what this bag says to you and as you walk out through the waiting room there are half a dozen other men . . . sometimes with the ' ' ' ' ' they all look at you and see you walk c ' ' ' ' ' though it is meant to be anonymous it is . . . definitely a sign you are in the club.

It is no real concern. It is just the way it is. I am told if and when it does become erect it would be the same size as it would have been anyway so that doesn't, that is not an issue.

"a truck drivers body!"

then

The professor's skill in "questioning the common sense" of the current society behind the surface that the mass media present, is according to TASA's survey effective.

When asked to comment on his work, Professor Connell states that it is a combination of research methodologies - quantitative, historic, life histories and first hand observations that have given it such definition.

Professor Bob Connell (right) with Deborah Young, Assistant to the Head of the Centre of the School of Policy and Practice in Education and Social Work (centre), and research assistant Molly Nicholson.

Bob Connell

"Social analysis requires lenses as diverse as the issues it addresses," he said, adding that his research methods have both "required and enabled the development of a relaxed relationship with ideas and experiences of diversity".

now

Professor Raewyn Connell

BA (Melb) PhD (Syd) FASSA

Academic Staff

University Chair

E-mail: r.connell@edfac.usyd.edu.au

Phone: 935 16247 Fax: 935 14580

Building & Room Number: A35.544

About Professor Connell

Raewyn Connell is one of the leading Australian social scientists, whose work is in sociology, education, gender studies, political science and history. She is a Fellow of the Australian Academy of Social Sciences in Australia, and recipient of the American Sociological Association's distinguished contribution to the study of sex and gender. In a recent survey conducted by the Sociological Association (TASA) to determine the most influential books in Australia, Prof. Connell's books were listed among the top ten.

“Women realize that it’s not just a man’s disease, it’s their disease too”

The couple's illness

PROSTATE CANCER
SUPPORT GROUP
3rd meeting

Prostate Cancer and Radiotherapy

FRAN. D. Hooper, M.D.

Michael Smith Foundation for Health Research

Thanks

CIHR IRSC

John Oliffe

Associate Professor

john.oliffe@nursing.ubc.ca

Researching the Social
Contexts of Health Behaviour

Centre for Nursing and Health Behaviour Research

